

BOOK

This was the first reference/graduate textbook to focus on microtissue engineering with applications in preclinical drug discovery applications. It was a successful book--sold 1,169 copies; and the author is under contract with the same publisher (Taylor and Francis Group) to author a second edition.